Bid farewell to summer with these anticipated openings and events

BOURBON & BEYOND September 22–23 | Louisville, Kentucky

From delicious bites to bourbon sips, and don't forget the impressive musical line up, Bourbon & Beyond is the world's largest bourbon festival. This weekend event offers guests the opportunity to attend bourbon workshops taught by master distillers and see exciting culinary demos, in addition to tasting an array of top-notch bourbons. bourbonandbeyond.com

SEA WOLF Nashville, Tennessee

Nationally acclaimed chef Ford Fry is bringing his good eats to Nashville's Germantown neighborhood. While Sea Wolf will be a seafood-centric restaurant, he's also opening two more in the area, including Le Loup, a French-inspired cocktail lounge, and Star Rover, a more casual taqueria-style snack bar hosting live music.

THALIA New Orleans, Louisiana

Housed in the historic Shamrock Tavern located in the Lower Garden District, this Crescent City opening is the newest venture of chefs Kristen Essig and Michael Stoltzfus, who also own the beloved Coquette restaurant. With just 30 seats, this small eatery's menu will fall somewhere between New Orleans' fine dining scene and casual po' boy shop for an affordable, comfortable dining experience.

CULTIVATION FOOD HALL Jackson, Mississippi

With upscale Southern street food, crêpes, poké bowls, and more, this innovative food hall is the first of its kind in Mississippi. With nine different dining concepts at a time, this crowd-friendly spot is a food-lovers dream destination. cultivationfoodhall.com
